

Azar Gat*National Security Speaker Series

Azar Gat
Tel Aviv University

"War in Human Civilization"

Wednesday, April 21, 2004
12:00 p.m. *
Mershon Center
Room 120

Azar Gat studies the development and technologies of war, and is the author of numerous books, including The Origins of Military Thought from the Enlightenment to Clausewitz, The Development of Military Thought: The Nineteenth Century, Fascist and Liberal Visions of War: Fuller, Liddell Hart, Douhet, Other Modernists, and British Armour Theory and Rise of the Panzer Arm: Revising the Revisionists. He is currently working on a wide-ranging interdisciplinary book, provisionally entitled War in Human Civilization.

Professor Gat has been an Alexander von Humboldt Fellow in Germany (Freiburg), a Fulbright Fellow in the USA (Yale), a British Council Scholar in Britain (Oxford), and a Visiting Fellow at the Mershon Center, The Ohio State University. He has been Chair of the Department of Political Science at Tel Aviv University since 1999. He is a Major (res.) in the Israeli army.

*R.S.V.P. to Ann Powers if you plan to attend this event.